WHY US

This institution respects each student as an individual. As we believe there is no one size that fits all, we appreciate the fact that defining and addressing problems of students from varied background need to be looked at in a holistic manner. Hence we try and involve our students' parents in our educational plan so that there is a coordinated effort to understand and appreciate the behavioural response of all students in their respective classes. At FGAA, an effective parent teacher communication makes our academy a richer centre for learning.
